Education

University of Oregon   06/24/2021 to 10/28/2021

The U of O has put together a program of a Coding Boot Camp that was part of the Oregon Codes Job education. This six month long boot camp is designed for anyone with some knowledge of coding to join and learn how to become a "Full-Stack" Web Developers.

University of Phoenix   05/2021 to present

University of Phoenix is based in Phoenix Arizona, and allows an online learning experience that matches all types of people. Currently I am in the pursuit of a bachelors in Writing.

Portland Community College   2002 to 2004

After moving to Portland, once again I wanted to try some other college education. I was originally going for Liberal Arts and also took some Web Developer classes, this was my first introduction to coding and found that I enjoyed it. I still have my Dream Weaver CD and book somewhere...

Kenai Peninsula College   1999 to 2001

After completing a G.E.D, graduating a year early, I began to explore options that would make for a career. After an initial dive into art as a bachelors degree, it had led me to believe that this was not for me.
